[c1] I Claim: 1. A marking system for the golf tee using lines, numbers, letters, other symbols, raised marks, colored sections, or depressed marks on the shank; so that the marks can be used to insert the golf tee into the ground to a known depth; so that the golf ball rests on the tee cup at a known height; and the control of the flight of the golf ball can be enhanced by eliminating the height of the golf ball above the ground as a variable.
